Stop Predatory Gambling

Predatory Gambling...No way to raise revenue for the common good!

Once again, elected governmental leadership, challenged with economic hard times, are suggesting one of the ways to finance programs for the common good is by predatory gambling.

What is predatory gambling? Predatory gambling is the practice of using gambling to prey on human weakness for profit, and it has become government's version of sub-prime lending. Slot machines represent predatory gambling in its purest form.

Your Council, as part of the Casino Free Mass Coalition, is urging Governor Deval Patrick, legislative leadership and legislators to say no to predatory gambling. As people of Christian faith, we oppose such measures in that we know there is a human cost.

Proposals in this new legislative session all center on expanding gambling as a means to produce revenue for the Commonwealth. Many advocate slot machine parlors, maintaining that they would not generate any more social problems than Governor Patrick's proposal last year for resort casinos. We do know that both proposals have a revenue model that relies heavily on slot machines. The Boston Globe's front page headline of March 7th, "Glitzy video slots seen as particular addiction risk," underscores the fact that that slot technology gets people to play longer, faster, and more intensively. Known as "the crack cocaine" of gambling, slot machines and other electronic gambling devices are explicitly designed to be addictive. Eighty percent of all gambling profits are generated by these machines and 90% of casino profits come from 10% of the gamblers.

Consider the facts:

- Compulsive gamblers make up 1.5% to 2.5% of the adult population. That amounts to three to five times the number of people suffering from cancer.
- Compulsive gamblers generate from 30 to 75 percent of casino profits.

- Addiction rates double within 50 miles of a casino.
 - A casino within ten miles of a home yields a 90% increased risk of its occupants becoming pathological or problem gamblers. (Source: National Coalition Against Legalized Gambling.)
- As persons of the Christian faith, we are deeply concerned about the human tragedy of the individual who is a problem or addicted gambler. Our concern is deeply embedded in the Christian ethic of our love for one another. The logic of raising revenue for the common good that has a social cost, a cost that hurts and, in some cases, destroys human life, is morally reprehensible. Yes, government needs revenue to provide services for the common good, but not through a means that in fact hurts our citizenry.

We invite you to join with other Christians in making a difference in stopping predatory gambling.

Massachusetts Interfaith Power and Light

Houses of worship leave a notable environmental imprint. Per capita, per hour of use, they are among the biggest wasters of energy, and the United States has more houses of worship than any other country! Many congregations recognize the moral imperative of stewardship, but don't always stand on the moral "high ground" when it comes to actual energy usage and environmental impact. Congregations need to become better environmental stewards and, in the process, encourage and inspire others to do better environmentally at home, school and work.

Massachusetts Interfaith Power and Light (MIP&L), formed in 2002, is a non-profit mutual ministry which works to lead and inspire congregations to fulfill this need. MIP&L offers a variety of services which assist houses of worship and their members in reducing energy consumption, lowering operating costs, and promoting clean, renewable energy use. Membership has grown to over 160 congregations, with congregations in turn prompting their members and the broader community to effective environmental stewardship actions.

A good example is St James Episcopal in Cambridge, a big, old pile of holy stones built in the 19th century. In 2003

St James was among the first to have MIP&L complete an Environmental Stewardship Assessment. That study found old, hugely inefficient heating systems (boilers, controls, radiation) with steadily mounting use and even higher rates of increase in costs. Like many congregations, St James did not have the funds to implement the findings at one time. Inexpensive actions (such as programmable thermostats and upgrade in light bulbs and fixtures) helped. Then the boiler failed for the funeral service of a beloved member. Action became essential both practically and spiritually. With MIP&L's help major changes were planned for and implemented. Financial help also came from both the gas and electric companies, which have financial incentives.

- Heating — The old oil-fired and very inefficient boilers were removed. New high efficiency (92%) gas-fired condensing mode hydronic boilers were installed. The entire facility was converted to hot water heat, eliminating steam. Many zones were installed, so that only what needed to be heated would be heated.
- DHW — Domestic hot water generation converted to indirect fired storage tank using the high efficiency boilers.

Results

- Heating & DHW — CO₂ generated for heating and DHW only about 120,000 lbs compared to over 248,000 lbs if the old oil/steam system were still in place, a reduction of over 50%!

- Electricity — Electricity use in 2008 was only 80% that of 2001.

Total cost in 2008 for all utilities was about $25,000, compared to an estimated $47,760 if still on the old systems. The CO₂ reduction is the equivalent of taking 14 cars off the road.

STEM for This Old House of Worship

Another technique that MIP&L uses to further its mission is Savings Through Energy Management. STEM is a 15 hour program for congregations that teaches skills needed to reduce energy consumption in their houses of worship and in their homes. STEM is taught in 5 three-hour sessions, with each session meeting in a different house of worship. At least 5 and as many as 10 congregations join in the training. Participants learn how to use professional equipment to test and measure the components of their buildings, and calculate the energy and fuel to be saved by implementing energy conservation. The program also includes information on energy rebates.

In Massachusetts, STEM is sponsored by MIP&L. Members receive a $100 reduction in the STEM fee of $3,000 total for all participants. ($300 each if 10 congregations.) Members who are lead organizers also receive a $25 fee reduction for each participating congregation which also becomes an MIP&L member.

Per capita, per hour of use, houses of worship are among the biggest wasters of energy in the US.

Clean Energy

As a strong proponent for clean energy, MIP&L is currently creating a Solar Energy program to make solar electricity panels affordable for member congregations. Through a tax-credit financing arrangement, the objective is to have a solar array installation at little or no cost to the congregation for buying or installing the panels. The on-going cost would have been incurred in any event!

Part of knowing about clean energy is learning. MIP&L sponsors meetings, seminars and workshops of all sorts, such as the March 2009 4-part Renewable Energy: The Future for Massachusetts series in Andover, and the Ministry for Earth Community on April 24 at Harvard Divinity School. MIP&L works with communities (schools, local government) on various implementation strategies. MIP&L also strongly encourages congregations and all members to individually offset carbon footprints by opting for various “offsets”, of which the Massachusetts Clean Energy Choice program is direct, and easy. Just go to www.CleanEnergyChoice.org!

Summary

MIP&L is a great facilitator for the responsible use of energy by the community of faith. It is hoped that every congregation in the MCC community will take advantage of the many opportunities that MIP&L offers to become stewards of the gifts which God has given to all of us. For more information — including how to become a MIP&L member, and lots of practical information for your everyday Environmental Stewardship — visit the MIP&L website www.MIPandL.org.

Bicentennial Worship Celebration of the Massachusetts Bible Society

The Massachusetts Bible Society invites you to join in celebration of our 200th anniversary by joining with us in a worship celebration on Saturday, May 2, 2009 at Old South Church, 645 Boylston Street, Boston. Remembering our ecumenical heritage.

MCC Annual Meeting 2009

Over 150 delegates and guests gathered in Wilson Chapel at Andover Newton for the 2009 Annual Meeting whose theme "New Beginnings: Our faith witness in the Historic moment" engaged the audience in worship, dialogue and proactive presentations.

Rev. Dr. John Thomas, General Minister and President of the United Church of Christ, challenged us in his sermon, stating "there is a Gospel for the Church to proclaim that is not divided but that is power to all who believe. Is not this the vocation of the ecumenical movement today and tomorrow?"

The Inner Strength Gospel Choir from Boston University lifted our spirits by their musical anthems during our prayer service of Christian Unity.

Our worship service was an occasion to "remember our Baptism." The Reverend Dr. Everett Frye, President of the Council of Churches of Greater Springfield, an American Baptist (left) was joined by the Reverend Dr. Martin McLee, District Superintendent of the Boston Metro Hope District of the New England Conference of the United Methodist Church, in leading our gathering in this special moment of worship.

Roundtable Discussion: Challenging Issues that Face us as Christians in this Moment of History

(Four panel members from left to right) Rev. Dr. Jim Antal, Minister and President of the Massachusetts Conference of the United Church of Christ; the Honorable Byron Rushing, a member of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts House of Representatives; Father Brian Hehir, Kennedy School Professor and Secretary of Health Social Services for the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Boston; Rachel Hope Anderson, Co-founder and Executive Director of Boston Faith and Social Justice Network. Right: Rev. Joel Anderle, Council Vice President, moderated the panel. Their presentations may be found at www.masscouncilofchurches.org.

President Rev. Dr. Nick Carter, of Andover Newton Theological School, provided a warm welcome and gracious ecumenical hospitality. Andover Newton celebrated it's 200th anniversary in 2007.

Major Raphael Jackson, of the Salvation Army, Massachusetts Divisional Headquarters, leads the congregation in the singing of hymns praising God and affirming our unity in Christ.

Gaza Offering: Three truckloads of equipment and supplies put together by the Church World Service-supported Action by Churches Together international coalition were sent to the Al Ahli Hospital in Gaza in January. The CWS-supported transport included 12,000 cartons of high protein biscuits; 20,300 liters of fortified milk; blankets and quilts; and nearly $68,000 worth of medical supplies in the first shipment. The Al Ahli Arab Hospital in Gaza, run by the Episcopal Diocese of Jerusalem, continues to receive and care for numerous patients who are injured, wounded or burned. Over $1,200 was donated from the offering taken at the Annual Meeting for Gaza relief through Church World Service.

“The Authority of the Church in the World” Plenary with Dr. Antonios Kireopoulos

*Tuesday May 5, 2009 10 AM,
Greek Orthodox Metropolis of Boston; Lunch to follow*

The Massachusetts Council of Churches Commission on Christian Unity is pleased to host Dr. Antonios Kireopoulos to speak on the topic, “the Authority of the Church in the World.” Dr. Kireopoulos is the Senior Program Director for Faith and Order and Interfaith Relations of the National Council of Churches. All are welcome to attend.

World.” The CCU is the ‘Faith and Order’ arm of the Massachusetts Council of Churches. It enables the churches and other members to seek to manifest ever more fully the work of reconciliation, renewal and unity in the faith. MCC member denominations and partner denominations appoint commissioners to represent their tradition.

With the potent mix of religious and political hot topics as of late, there have been many questions about the authority of “the Church” to witness to God’s will for the world. How does the Church claim this authority? Where does it come from? Who has the authority when different Christian churches are making conflicting claims? How do the continual divisions among the body of Christ compromise our witness? As the NCCC text on this topic states, “At stake is the ability of the Church itself to proclaim, in word and deed, the good news of Jesus Christ in the midst of a fractured society.” Please join us for this plenary address and lively discussion.

Dr. Kireopoulos has been closely associated with the Faith and Order Commission and has spent most of the last 20 years in ecumenical dialogue. This began with a seminary internship and continued through his membership on the Commission, where he represented the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America. We are honored to have Dr. Kireopoulos with us to deliver the plenary address.

For the past year, the CCU commissioners have discussed and prepared a response text to the National Council of Churches study text, “The Authority of the Church in the
